SPIRITUAL LIFE

When I alluded to Nativity Lutheran Church as a ship on the ocean and there will be rough sailing during the journey, the thought of the encounter with a hurricane never entered my mind. With the records indicating near misses on this side of the gulf we had become somewhat at ease in our comfort zone.

That comfort was disrupted on the morning of September 11th as hurricane Irma made her way through our communities as we huddled, evacuated, battened down, and made all the necessary precautions as advised for the State, County and government emergency planners.

There was no loss of life in our church community, however we must keep those unfortunate persons who have lost their lives, home, or suffered in any way as the result of Irma our prayers. We also ask God to comfort the families of the unfortunate victims in this their time of loss. As I write this, there are still many without power, many homes still flooded, and probably some seeking shelter with family, a friend or in a facility. Thanks to the Emergency teams for assisting their specific communities and reaching out to communities around that were in even greater danger than their own.

The above is simply an example of the uncertainties of life and teaches us as Christians how to be prepared for such devastating events where nature shows its wrath. As Nativity Lutheran enters the last quarter of the year, say goodbye to Summer and welcome the Fall, we take the time to welcome our "Snow Angels" to our communities and church once more. We wish those still on the way a safe journey, and give thanks for those who have made it safely.

I have said that if there is to be smooth sailing on this 'Ship' everyone must have their oar in the water as we row on the seas. Now, as we take stock of our commitment to the church and the many ministries involved, despite the lack of leading persons on some organizations, the church has managed to function as we operate under constraints due to lack of members on council. Every one of us have a talent that was used, or still being used during our careers and as we go about our daily lives. That talent can be used for the benefit of our church and to the Glory of God for the many blessings bestowed upon us and our love ones.

The Lay Leadership Committee is currently at work seeking candidates for council, and the difficulty in finding candidates for nominations has been brought to the attention of council. A major concern was the timing of the meetings as some who are willing to be nominated are still in the work force or have conflict with other activities. Council is doing its best to address these concerns to make the process more attractive for candidates.

Council will do everything possible to have the required number of members on council, as we do our best to serve the congregation.

The Executive Committee made up of President of Council, Vice president, Treasurer, Financial Secretary, and Secretary will be selected after those coming on board are elected. Your experience and input is needed to help keep our church on an even keel. With Council operating at full capacity, there are also many other leading roles to be filled, and you are asked to look inside of your heart and pray earnestly and ask God to guide you to one of these roles. Your talent is needed and you will be fulfilled having undertaken your purpose in service to God.

I have heard the “been there, done that” phrase many times, but you have been blessed with the many gifts God has given you, what a pleasure it will be to know that you have contributed to the administration of His church.

There are Ministries at Nativity Lutheran that have seen a decline in membership as many have relocated north, and in cases have gone to their heavenly home. As we remember them, let us give God thanks for their service and in likewise manner see if you can fill the void created by their exit. In as much as we witnessed the exit by some members, we have also welcomed many talented new members who have joined Nativity Lutheran and are involved in service to our church. There is still much to be done and the more oars in the water, the lighter the task will be.

You are urged to pray earnestly and give some thought to continue serving Nativity, not only with your tithes but with your time and talent.

May God bless you.

Al Wright.

Commemoration of St. Francis
10:00 am    Wednesday, October 4, 2017

Francis was the son of a wealthy cloth merchant. In a public confrontation with his father, he renounced his wealth and future inheritance and devoted himself to serving the poor. Francis described this act as “being wedded to Lady Poverty”. Under his leadership the Order of Friars Minor (Franciscans) was formed, and they literally took Jesus’ words to his disciples that they should take nothing on their journey and receive no payment for their work. Their task in preaching was to “use words if necessary.” Francis had a spirit of gladness and gratitude for all of God’s creation. This commemoration has been a traditional time to bless pets and animals; creatures Francis called his brothers and sisters.

*Generous soul, filled with love

500th Anniversary of the Reformation Hymn Festival

What happened in the Reformation?

Martin Luther posted his "Ninety-Five Theses" in Wittenberg on Oct. 31, 1517, and the resulting debate about Christian teaching and practice led to changes that have shaped the course of Western Christianity for almost 500 years. At the heart of these wide-reaching changes was a deep conviction that God's mercy or grace in Jesus is given freely to all. When Luther and others learned to trust God's mercy with "a living, daring confidence," they discovered in that faith the freedom to give themselves generously, lovingly in all of life's undertakings with everyone they met.

The changes began with a critical look at confession and forgiveness, preaching and the sacraments — what Luther called the "means of grace." The sale of indulgences, the practice of penance, the content of preaching, the administration of Baptism and the Lord's Supper — all the restrictions that impeded the message of God's mercy from being heard and received fully by all came under scrutiny. Repeatedly, Luther made changes and took initiatives to give full and free expression to the gospel, the message of God's liberating mercy in Jesus Christ. He translated the Scriptures into German so that ordinary believers could hear the Word of God in their everyday language. He composed many hymns including "A Mighty Fortress" (based on Psalm 46) that put the Word of God to music, the language of the heart. He preached for the people in Wittenberg in simple, everyday terms, and he used those sermons as the basis for teaching resources that parents and local pastors could use — his Small and Large Catechisms.

Why is the Reformation still relevant?

The Lutheran Reformation offers to Christian communities everywhere a liberating way of listening to and speaking the Scriptures. The Reformation teaching that Christ's life flows through faith into a life of service to the neighbor is especially liberating in our culture today.

The evangelical Lutheran Reformation offers the promise of God's love that makes possible a life of "living, daring confidence in God's grace."

The Reformation teaching that faith is the work of God's Holy Spirit is especially liberating in a culture that assumes a faith relationship with God is an act of human "free will."

Many, both within Christian communities and beyond, are held captive by ideologies that limit the full scope of God's mercy in Christ to demographic groups defined sociologically by certain beliefs, behaviors or experiences. The Reformation teaching that Christ's life flows through faith into a life of service to the neighbor is especially liberating in a culture that makes religious life into a demonstration of one's own worthiness and privilege to the disadvantage of others.

How is the ELCA observing the 500th anniversary of the Reformation?

The ELCA is one church body organized in three expressions — congregations, synods and the churchwide organization. Each expression has its functions, but all three share a common mission of doing God's work in the world and proclaiming the good news of Jesus Christ. Congregations, members, synods and other institutions of the ELCA will be observing the 500th anniversary of the Reformation by a variety of events and activities in the coming years. Many of the local activities will reflect the magnitude of work being done on a national and international scale.

Some areas of engagement will surround acknowledging what Martin Luther did to spark the Reformation, revisiting the roots of our Lutheran beliefs and what those roots mean today for us and our engagement with others.

In these activities, the ELCA seeks to find in this historic milestone an occasion to give a confident and joyful witness of the life and freedom in Jesus Christ that is for all.

Historical background

By the time composer Johann Sebastian Bach was born (1685), those who agreed with Martin Luther (either for theological or for political reasons) had long since separated from the Roman Catholic Church, forming the Lutheran Church and other Protestant churches, and October 31 had acquired the status of being a feast day or holy day in these churches.

Bach composed at least one cantata to be used on every Sunday of the church year and on all holy days. His Cantata No. 80, "Ein feste Burg," was written specially for use on Reformation Day, using as its primary musical material, the chorale text and tune written by Martin Luther, known in English as "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." This chorale is often colloquially known as the fight song of the Protestant Reformation.

In 1830, throughout modern-day Germany, municipalities were preparing to celebrate the 300th Anniversary of the Augsburg Confession, the primary confession of faith of the Lutheran Church. To celebrate this event, composer Felix Mendelssohn (who was singlehandedly responsible for the revival of performance of the works of Bach beginning with a performance of Bach's St. Matthew Passion in 1829) began composing a church symphony for this celebration. He did not finish his symphony in time for the celebrations in 1830.

When he did complete his Symphony in D minor, he gave it the subtitle, Reformation. It only received a couple of performances in Mendelssohn's lifetime and was not published until after his death.

Unlike most symphonies, Mendelssohn's Reformation Symphony (Symphony No. 5 in D minor) tells a musical story, in this case, evoking images of the Protestant Reformation, symbolized most overtly with a solo flute (the instrument Martin Luther played) beginning the fourth (and final) movement intoning the beginning of Luther's "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." This chorale becomes the musical basis for the final movement.

There is no pairing of music more perfect than pairing Bach's Cantata No. 80, "Ein feste Burg," with Mendelssohn's Symphony No. 5 in D minor, "Reformation," for a concert honoring the 500th Anniversary of the Protestant Reformation given that both works were written with the Reformation clearly in mind, both works share some similar musical material (the chorale tune, "Ein feste Burg," or "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God") though treat the musical material in very different ways, and that Mendelssohn is the person responsible to restoring the music of Bach to its rightful place in the European musical canon after it had been largely forgotten.

Health. Education. Dignity. Ensure she has what she needs to succeed. These are the words found on the home page of the website for Days for Girls, a non-profit organization formed to help girls in developing countries stay in school. How can an organization help girls stay in school you may ask?

Consider this: When a girl has her monthly period, she stays in her room and sits on a piece of cardboard! She cannot go to school and falls behind in her studies, eventually dropping out altogether.

Days for Girls has come up with a solution: washable, reusable menstrual pads which are kept in a drawstring bag. Along with receiving these kits the girls are taught about health and personal hygiene. They are taught how to care for their pads so that they will last up to 3 years.

Through the Trompeter Fund and Thrivent Financial, Women of Nativity have been able to participate in this mission.

WON continues to have workshops to make the kits. The next one will be on Thursday, October 26, from 9:00 am to 11:00 am at Nativity. Please consider joining us on this valuable mission project.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE NEWEST MEMBER OF THE SAN FRANCISCO 49ERS: MATT BREIDA

Matt Breida and his parents, Mike and Terri Breida are members of Nativity. When Matt was going through Confirmation classes at Nativity, Bill Yoos was his mentor. Congratulations to Matt and his parents. We pray he has a long and injury free career.

Matt Brieda #22     Running Back

San Francisco 49ers

As a senior in 2016, despite receiving consideration for multiple national athletic awards which included the watch list for both the Doak Walker Award and Maxwell Award, it was an award for what he does off the field that Breida felt most honored by. Breida was announced as a finalist for the 2016 Senior Class Award after making the Georgia Southern Eagles' Honor Roll and being involved in the community by reading and speaking to local elementary schools in Statesboro, GA as well as back home in Florida. "One of the best people I've ever been around," said Georgia Southern Head Coach Tyson Summers when asked about Breida. The 2016 Senior Class Award is given to a senior who has various notable achievements in four areas: community, classroom, character, and competition. "For them to see me as one of the role models was cool for me," said Breida.

Breida honors his parents, calling them the reason he is where he is today. "They mean everything to me. I could be somewhere else," said Breida who was adopted the day after he was born by Terri and Mike Breida. Both permanently disabled, Terri and Mike sacrificed to make sure Matt and his brother had the best life they could offer them. According to Breida, "They gave me everything that they could even though we didn't have a lot. Adoption or no adoption, family is family. I see them as my parents, from day one. No matter what. That's mom and dad to me. I would do anything for them."
